Lynwood Unified to Unveil $250,000 Mobile STEAM Classroom

WHAT: Lynwood Unified students will watch curriculum come to life when school leaders unveil a $250,000 mobile science, technology, engineering, arts and mathematics (STEAM) classroom.

The classroom on wheels, donated by the National College Resources Foundation (NCRF), will arrive equipped with Mac computers, coding programs and 3-D printers to inspire student interest in STEAM-related careers.

Lynwood Unified Superintendent Gudiel R. Crosthwaite, Board President Alma-Delia Renteria and local elected officials will attend a ribbon-cutting celebration for the new instructional tool. Guests will tour the mobile classroom, which will be stationed at Lynwood Middle School throughout the year. Starting in 2018-19, the classroom will cycle to a new school each year.

WHEN: Friday, Oct. 20
9 a.m.

WHERE: Lynwood Middle School
12124 Bullis Road
Lynwood, CA 90262

MORE: The NCRF donated the mobile classroom, which can accommodate 18 students and two educators, to promote advanced learning. The STEAM classroom will offer early introduction to STEAM-related career fields, a growing emphasis for Lynwood Unified.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony will feature a performance by the Lynwood Middle School band.
