420 Students Graduate at Baldwin Park High School Ceremony

BALDWIN PARK – Baldwin Park High School celebrated the commencement of 420 graduating seniors from the Class of 2016 on June 2, including students who will pursue the next stage of their college and career journeys at notable universities, the U.S. armed forces and regional trade and technical schools.

The school's Ted K. Gorrell Stadium was awash in blue and white as students received diplomas and heard encouraging remarks from campus leaders and Principal Anthony Ippolito. Valedictorian Selina Han will attend UCLA; salutatorian Cesar Joaquin Arevalo – who received national attention after being accepted by six Ivy League schools – will attend Stanford University.

Students will also matriculate to nearly every UC campus, No. 1 ranked Pomona College, the University of La Verne, USC, Cal Poly Pomona, Cal State Los Angeles, Cal State Fullerton, Azusa Pacific University, University of New Mexico and St. Mary's College Notre Dame, among others.

Students will also enlist in the U.S. Marine Corps, the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force. Still other students will pursue career training at North West College, American Career College, Universal Technical College and East San Gabriel ROP.

"We are tremendously proud of the Class of 2016 for their many accomplishments," Superintendent Froilan N. Mendoza said. "We wish them the best of luck and success in the years to come."
